CPE Provider Accreditation Program Applicant Eligibility

Only applicants headquartered within the United States will be considered for the CPE Provider Accreditation Program through the Commission on Dietetic Registration. However, CDR will accept Prior Approval Requests from international providers.

Effective January 1, 2019, CDR credentialed practitioners are now eligible to apply to become a CDR CPE Accredited Provider independent of their geographical location.

CPE Accredited Provider Number

Each CPE Accredited Provider will be assigned a unique Provider number, and the Provider is responsible for the content and quality of any CPE activities/ materials provided under their assigned Provider number. All activities/ materials must cite the CDR Provider number. In addition, all correspondence with CDR will include the Provider number.

Benefits of Becoming a CDR Accredited Provider

Recognition:

By CDR, dietetics professionals, and state dietetic licensure agencies as a Provider that meets CDR's Standards for Continuing Professional Education.

Enhanced Practitioner Satisfaction:

- By targeting activities to address the practitioners teaching interests, which will be identified and given to CPE Providers in a complimentary annual report.
- By offering certificates of completion, which meets state licensure and CDR recertification requirements.
- With exposure to a market of over 90,000 CDR Credentialed Practitioners through promotion of individual CPE activities in the CDR CPE Database, which is searchable to CDR Credentialed Practitioners online. (www.cdrnet.org/go/and/cdr/cpe_search.cfm)
- As a CPE Accredited Provider on CDR's website.
- By approval to use the CDR CPE Provider Accreditation Logo while marketing CPE activities and materials.

Streamlined Process:

With a brief CPE Provider Accreditation Renewal Application process only every three {3} years. By eliminating the requirement to submit individual CPE activities by CDR Prior Approval Requests.

Rather than completing CDR Prior Approval Requests for individual CPE activities, Providers complete the CPE Provider Accredited Application process, eliminating the requirement for reoccurring paperwork during the three (3) year period, Accredited Providers will receive a CPE Provider Accreditation Renewal Application along with their maintenance fee invoice.

Marketing Opportunities:

Becoming a CDR CPE Accredited Provider offers exposure to a market of over 90,000 CDR Credentialed Practitioners. CDR will list all CPE Accredited Providers on CDR's website, www.cdrnet.org, along with contact information for reaching Providers.

CDR Logo

CDR Encourages CPE Accredited providers to use the CDR CPE Accredited provider Logo on all activities/materials related to continuing education.

Continuing Professional Education Accredited Provider status does not constitute endorsement by CDR of a Provider, activities/materials. However, to distinguish those Providers that have met CDR's Standards, providers are permitted to use the following statement regarding Accredited with CDR:

"(Provider's name) is a Continuing Professional Education (CPE) Accredited provider with the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR). CDR Credentialed Practitioners will receive xx Continuing Professional Education units (CPEUs) for completion of this activity/material"

Restrictions

The CDR Logo and statement are reserved for CPE Accredited providers only. The Logo can only be reproduced in black and white. The Logo and statement may not be used in the promotion of any other products and services

Online Continuing Professional Education (CPE) Database:

The Online Continuing Professional Education (CPE) Database provides an excellent opportunity for promotion of CPE activities. CPE courses offered by Accredited Providers are identified as such in the Database and CPE Accredited Providers are given mandatory access to the Database. Database instructions and login information are emailed to CPE Accredited Providers to allow input of pertinent CPE activity information. CDR Credentialed Practitioners will be able to locate activities by topic, location, provider, activity type, learning need, and date. All CPE Accredited Providers are responsible for providing CDR's online CPE Database with the most current and accurate CPE activity information for all activity offerings for CDR Credentialed Practitioners.

Length of Accreditation

Accreditation will be granted for three (3) years for Providers that meet the Standards. If at any time the provider elects to not participate in the CPE Provider Accreditation Program, the Provider will notify CDR immediately and refrain from using the CDR CPE Accredited provider Logo, statement, and number. The Provider will also inform CDR Credentialed Practitioners of a change in its CPE Provider Accredited Status.

B. CDR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Guiding CPE Principles

For the past thirty (30) years, the recertification process has been based on mandatory continuing education hour reporting. The value of continuing education is not disputed. It is estimated that the half-life of dietetics education is about three (3) years. CPE can keep practitioners abreast of changes in the field and can keep practice state-of-the-art. The Portfolio builds upon the value of CPE.

Effective CPE is more complex than information transfer. It requires such steps as: identifying what needs to be learned, using educational methods that optimize learning, developing strategies to implement what has been learned, and transferring new learning into practice.

What can CDR do to improve the effectiveness of CPE? The aim of the Portfolio is to foster and facilitate lifelong learning and to provide tools to assist in professional development. Responsible, lifelong learning is continuous learning that is self-initiated, self-directed, and self-evaluated, undertaken for the purpose of professional development, personal enhancement, or quality of care improvement. It is CDR's intent to strengthen the current system to improve the effectiveness of professional development through self-directed, lifelong learning.

Professional Accountability

How does the Portfolio enhance accountability? The Portfolio works in conjunction with the Code of Ethics for the Profession of Dietetics (see appendix) and the Standards of Professional Practice to improve dietetics practice and to promote professional competence through personal accountability. The Portfolio supports the CDR Credentialed Practitioners taking responsibility for his or her own professional development.

By grounding the process in professional practice, the professional assumes responsibility for selecting learning activities that have a direct relationship to that practice. CDR's role then shifts from approving or denying CPE activities to one of providing professionals with the tools for self-directed learning, verifying that each step in the process has been completed and meets minimum guidelines. In response to feedback from practitioners asking for enhanced accountability, Portfolios will be audited at random and by identified triggers

C. CPE PROVIDER ACCREDITATION STANDARDS

There are five (5) Standards that CPE Providers must meet to be awarded CPE Provider Accreditation status with the Commission on Dietetic Registration. A New Provider Application for Accreditation can be found by the link below.

www.cdrnet.org/accredited-provider-information

As an Accredited Provider, you have agreed to offer Continuing Professional Education activities that comply with the CDR Provider Accreditation Program Standards.

Standard 1—Accredited Provider Eligibility

a.) The mission of the CPE Provider is consistent with CDR's content criteria for Continuing Professional Education. CDR defines CPE as education beyond that required for entry into the profession, as defined In the CDR Dietetics Practice Audit. CDR Credentialed Practitioners engage in lifelong learning to maintain and improve knowledge and skills for competent practice.

b.) Providers must be headquartered in the United States. Only applicants headquartered in the United States will be considered for the CPE Provider Accreditation Program through the Commission on Dietetic Registration. However. CDR will accept prior approval requests from international providers.

c.) Providers may include:

- Corporation

- Partnership

- Sole Proprietor

- Accredited Colleges/Universities

- Government Agencies

Non-profit Organizations

State Affiliates

Standard 2—Program Planning and Content Development

a.) CPE involves endeavors that exceed usual or routine employment responsibilities and are designed to accomplish the following four goals:

- Facilitate lifelong learning by updating, enhancing, or assessing knowledge and skills,
- Implement an individual Learning Plan,
- Relate to the conceptual framework of the dietetics profession,
- Provide outcomes that apply to practice competency.

b.) Each educational session/self-study product must meet the following criteria:

- All continuing professional education activity types addressing diet and nutrition topics* must include an RD or DTR in program planning. This policy change is effective for continuing professional activities offered on or after June 1, 2018 and for CDR credentialed practitioners recertifying beginning a new recertification cycle on or after June 2, 2018.

*Academic Coursework, and CPE activities offered by American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS), American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), American Academy of Nurse Practitioners (AANP), American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA), Organizations accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), Organizations accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), American Psychiatric Association (APA), American Psychological Association (APA), American Public Health Association (APHA), pharmacy, dentistry, and speech language pathology societies and associations are excluded from this requirement.

- Are dietetics related Dietetics related means: The integration, application, and communication of principles derived from food, nutrition, social, business, and basic sciences to achieve and maintain optimal nutritional status of individuals through the development, provision, and management of effective food and nutrition services in a variety of settings and as defined by the essential practice competencies.
- Are relevant to knowledge, skills, behavior and attitudes of professional dietetics practice.
- Are developed by instructors or individuals who have appropriate academic training, certification, or demonstrated expertise to present or develop materials in a particular subject area.
- Academic degrees should be relevant and from a US regionally accredited institution. Foreign academic degrees accredited by foreign equivalent institutions are accepted on the condition that they have been verified by one of the agencies listed on the Independent Foreign Degree Evaluation Agencies list on pages 21 – 22 of the Appendix. Publications in scientific, peer reviewed professional journals or presentations at scientific, peer-reviewed conferences may also be used to help establish expertise.
- Demonstrate that content, quality, and scientific integrity of activities and materials are maintained.

- Presentations and materials that are clinical in nature are evidence-based. A balanced discussion of the topic, including risk versus benefit information where appropriate, is ensured. Controversial or disputed issues are presented as such and supported by documentation from current and reputable, refereed, scientific journals.
- Disclose potential conflicts of interest, including commercial bias
- Are (typically) a minimum of one (1) contact hour in length. Exceptions include professional reading, poster presentations and exhibits, and self-study activities, which can be a minimum of 0.5 CPEUs.
- Continuing Professional Education (CPE) offerings must comply with all CDR Approved Activity Type specific criteria.

Standard 3—Program Assessment and Outcomes Evaluation

a.) The educational objectives or learning outcomes of the activities are assessed Learners will be aware that the educational objectives or learning outcomes of the activity will be assessed. Examples of assessment of objectives or outcomes include, but are not limited to, case studies, role-play scenarios, test questions, or action planning.

b.) The activity is evaluated

Providers will offer an opportunity for learners to evaluate the CPE activity. Further, Providers will regularly use this important feedback to continually improve the activities/materials offered. Learners must also be notified that they may submit evaluations of the quality of activities/materials to CDR. This information will be transmitted to Accredited Providers. Poor evaluations of activities/materials may trigger an audit of the activities/materials by CDR. In addition, activities/materials may be randomly audited by CDR to determine compliance with the CPE Accreditation Standards.

c.) The activities are based on an identified learning need, practice competency and performance indicator of CDR Credentialed Practitioners.

d.) The level of the activity is identified, as described by CDR

To assist CDR Credentialed Practitioners in selecting appropriate CPE activities and Providers for developing CPE activities, the following levels provide guidance for describing individual activities or materials:

Level I: Assumes that the participant has little or no prior knowledge of the area(s) covered. The focus of the activity is to increase the core knowledge of the participant.

Level II: Assumes that the participant has general knowledge of the literature and professional practice within the area(s) covered. The focus of the activity is to enhance knowledge and application of the participant.

Level III: Assumes that the participant has thorough knowledge of the literature and professional practice within the area(s) covered. The focus of the activity is synthesis of recent advances and future directions.

Standard 4—Personnel Qualifications

Instructors or Individuals Mandatory Qualifications for Developing CPE Materials

a.) Be competent in the subject matter.

Instructors and individuals that develop CPE materials will have appropriate academic training, certification or demonstrated expertise to present or develop materials in a particular subject area. Academic degrees should be relevant, and granted by a US, regionally-Accredited college/university. Publications in scientific, peer-reviewed professional journals or presentations at scientific, peer-reviewed conferences may also be used to help establish expertise.

b.) Present information based on scientific principles and current information.

The Provider is responsible for the content, quality, and scientific integrity of the activities. Potential conflicts of interest, including commercial bias will be disclosed. A balanced discussion of the topic, including risk versus benefit information where appropriate, will be ensured. Controversial or disputed issues must be presented as such, supported by documentation from current and reputable refereed scientific journals.

c.) Be knowledgeable and skilled in instructional methods appropriate for adults.

The Professional Development Portfolio recertification process for CDR credentialed practitioners is grounded on the principles of adult learning. It is essential that instructors or individuals that develop CPE materials are familiar with instructional methods appropriate for adults. Materials are provided in the Appendix of this Handbook to give to instructors: or individuals who develop CPE materials to assist in meeting this aspect of the Standard: however, Providers may use other approaches to ensure that these individuals are knowledgeable and skilled in instructional methods appropriate for adults.

d.) Utilize instructional methods appropriate to meet the educational objectives or learning outcomes.

Not only is it important to use instructional methods appropriate for adults, the instructional methods should be congruent with the objectives or outcomes. For example, if the objective or outcome is to measure body fat using a skin fold caliper, learners should be given an opportunity to practice this skill.

Standard 5—Operational Policies and Procedures

a.) Prior Approval requests submitted from other organizations must be directed to CDR

As an Accredited Provider, you are not authorized to review, approve, or charge a fee for prior approval requests that may be submitted to you from other organizations. Accredited Providers are strictly limited to creating and approving their own activities that comply with the Commission on Dietetic Registration's CPE Guidelines and Accredited Provider Standards. If Accredited Providers are approached about approving prior approval requests from other organizations, they will immediately direct these inquiries to the Commission on Dietetic Registration.

b.) A certificate of attendance or completion is provided to the learner and records of attendance are maintained for seven (7) years.

A certificate of attendance or completion will be provided for each individual who completes the education activity. Each certificate will include the following information:

Commission on Dietetic Registration <small>the credentialing agency for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics</small> 	Continuing Professional Education Certificate of Attendance —Attendee Copy—
	Participant Name: _____ Registration Number: _____ Activity Title: _____ _____ Activity Number: _____ Date Completed: _____ Number of CPEUs Awarded: _____ *Suggested Learning Need Code(s): _____ *Suggested Performance Indicator(s): _____
_____ Provider Signature	<small>RETAIN ORIGINAL COPY FOR YOUR RECORDS *Refer to your Professional Development Portfolio Guide For LNCs or PLs</small>

Records of activities/materials completion will be maintained for seven (7) years. Procedures will be in place so CDR Credentialed Practitioners can receive documentation, in a timely manner, of their attendance or completion of a CPE activity.

c.) Policies are established related to commercial support and full disclosure.

The Provider will have policies to disclose, in advance, any potential conflicts of interest including any source of compensation related to the activities/materials. These policies will extend to instructors or individuals developing CPE materials. A sample policy is included in the Appendix.

d.) Accreditation Standards are consistently followed.

CDR will monitor CPE Accredited Providers on an ongoing basis to ensure that the Standards are consistently met. Some of the ways Providers will be monitored include:

- CDR Credentialed Practitioners will be encouraged to contact CDR if they feel a Provider is not meeting the CPE Provider Accreditation Standards.
- CDR may periodically request activity attendance information to gather feedback from attendees on Provider performance in achieving the Standards.
- CDR may also request activities/ materials or attend activities to directly observe the CPE Accredited Provider activities.

D. CPE ACTIVITY TYPES AND DESCRIPTIONS

100. Academic Coursework

Dietetics-related academic coursework, including distance learning, at a regionally accredited US college or university can be awarded CPEUs based on the following list. Under the activity description in your Step 2: Activity Log, indicate whether the coursework was taken during a semester, trimester, or quarter. Academic coursework that qualifies for CPE credit must be started after you have become an RDN or RD, or NDTR or DTR and must be completed in your current recertification cycle. The date of completion of academic coursework can be either the date of notification of successful course completion or the date of the final examination required for course completion; note, however, that the notification of successful completion of coursework must be received by May 31 of the last year of the recertification cycle.

1 semester credit hour= 15 CPEUs

1 trimester credit hour= 14 CPEUs

1 quarter credit hour= 10 CPEUs

Practitioners Documentation Required: Official Transcripts.

Individuals completing a certificate program receive CPEUs for training and assessment time regardless of whether they pass the post-course assessment and receive the certificate. E. CPE PROVIDER ACCREDITATION PROGRAM COMPLAINT PROCESS

Complaint or Concern

If CDR receives a complaint or identifies through its monitoring that a Provider may not be in compliance with the Standards, CDR will contact the Provider in writing to request documentation for its investigation and request a response to the complaint or concern within thirty (30) business days. If the Accredited Provider does not provide the requested documentation within thirty (30) business days, CDR will consider the complaint substantiated, and may initiate actions up to and including revocation of Accredited Provider status. There are three possible outcomes of complaint investigations:

Complaint or Concern Not Substantiated

Complaint or Concern Partially Substantiated

If, after investigation, the complaint or concern is not fully substantiated, yet CDR has developed concerns or reservations about the Accredited Provider activities or products then a letter of concern may be issued. The letter will identify the activity or product and the specific concerns. Suggested remedies may be included, up to and including a suggestion that the Provider voluntarily modify certain activities or withdraw certain products from future sales. The Provider will be notified within fifteen (15) business days of this determination. Provider Accreditation status will not be affected. The Provider will be informed that failure to comply with the suggested remedies may result in reconsideration of the matter.

Adult Learning

The Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) has created a new recertification process for CDR Credentialed Practitioners the Professional Development Portfolio. The aim of the Portfolio is to foster and facilitate lifelong learning and to provide CDR Credentialed Practitioners with tools to assist in professional development.

CDR embraces the philosophy of lifelong learning encouraged in The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Standards of Professional Practice directed towards professional development, personal enhancement, and quality of care improvement. CDR believes that the Portfolio supports the CDR Credentialed Practitioners taking responsibility for his or her own professional development.

An essential element of professional development for CDR Credentialed Practitioners is involvement in Continuing Professional Education that reinforces the aim of the Portfolio. Therefore, as an instructor or individual that develops CPE materials for CDR Credentialed Practitioners, you are an essential part of their professional development.

Adult learners

The literature is rich with information to assist in the development of learning opportunities for adults. The following are some aspects of adult learning that are important to consider:

Experience

Adult learners bring an array of experiences to learning, and these experiences should be an integral part of the learning process.

Readiness to learn

Motivation and readiness to learn, in some cases, are related. The steps in the Portfolio facilitate self-reflection, learning needs assessment, and Learning Plan development. As a result, the CDR Credentialed Practitioners is prepared for learning with an individualized plan that provides a blueprint for reaching his or her goals.

Problem-Centered

Adult learners reflect on their experiences as they incorporate new learning. Adults often seek out learning experiences in response to a problem or situation. Learning experiences that provide an opportunity for individuals to apply the information will increase the likelihood that the new learning will be transferred into practice.

Self-Directed and Interdependent

The Portfolio is designed to assist professionals with becoming self-directed learners. Many traditional educational learning experiences, however, have been directed (i.e., lecture style teaching). Reinforcement strategies, such as collaboration in establishing the outcomes of learning and learning techniques such as discussion groups, help strengthen self-directed learning.

While adult learning is self-directed, it is also interdependent. Problems or challenges for practitioners occur in the work or volunteer environment that prompts them to seek out learning. Providing opportunities for CDR Credentialed Practitioners to collaborate with others to solve problems can be very valuable.

Learning style preferences

Each individual has a unique preference for learning. Some individuals prefer active learning, a hands-on approach. Others learn best by a passive role in learning. The Portfolio process embraces diversity in learning style preferences. Therefore, it is essential to incorporate a variety of learning experiences in educational activities/ materials.
